MBA HR | VESIM’27 | Talent Acquisition | HR Operations | Employee Experience
Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Summary

For me, HR is about more than hiring the right person. It’s also about what happens after they join, how they work, the teams they become part of, and what makes them want to grow with an organisation.I’m currently pursuing my MBA in HR at VESIM (Class of 2027), with a growing interest in understanding how people, processes, and business needs come together.During my internship at Sumeet Infra Solutions, I had the opportunity to explore different sides of HR, from talent acquisition and employee engagement to developing HR SOPs, researching HRIS solutions, and working on employee feedback initiatives. It gave me a better understanding of how much goes on behind the scenes to make HR processes work.Before this, I worked as a Freelance Talent Sourcer (Remote), collaborating with consultants on entry-level hiring requirements. From sourcing candidates and conducting initial screenings to coordinating interviews, I got to experience recruitment from the ground up.Beyond academics, I’m actively involved in the Alumni Cell, Student Welfare Committee, and HR Cell at VESIM. Working with different teams, organising initiatives, and taking on responsibilities has taught me a lot about communication, coordination, and working with people.I want to explore the different functions of HR, understand how they connect, and discover where I can contribute the most. I’m interested in learning how HR can support both employees and the business.
